

Copying from magazines, books, journals and other periodicals under the CLA Licence

With effect from 1 April 2007 to 31st March 2008

CLA's Licence authorises photocopying and distribution in paper format or, in the case of scanned copies, via a secure intranet.

Works included in the Licence

Photocopying

- magazines, books, journals and other periodicals published in Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Canada (including Quebec), Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Luxembourg, Mexico, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and the UK
- works published in the United States of America (a list of American publishers covered by the CLA licence is available nearby or from your Licensing Co-ordinator* or see CLA website: www.cla.co.uk)

Scanning

- UK publications only.

Works not included in the Licence

- printed music (including the words)
- maps, charts, or books of tables
- published tests or public examination papers whether published individually or in collections
- work books, work cards and assignment sheets
- privately owned documents issued for tuition purposes and limited to clientele who pay fees
- internal house journals and other free publications primarily for employees of commercial businesses or public services (but not intended for public circulation)
- newspapers
- any work on which the copyright owner has expressly and prominently stipulated that it may not be copied under licence from CLA
- works included on the List of Excluded Categories and Works
- works published outside the Mandating Territories (see list above)
- works published on-line, on CD-Rom or digitally delivered are not covered by this Licence. These will usually be published with their own licensing terms.

The List of Excluded Categories and Works should be displayed next to the copier and is available on the CLA website: www.cla.co.uk

Who can make and receive copies?

All staff, including General Practitioners, officers, directors and lay representative employed or contracted by the NHS and its NHS Bodies, who are engaged in the provision of health care within the public sector.

- Digital Copies: As above, provided that these staff and contracted individuals are permitted access to an Intranet or e-mail system via a secure login process which verifies their identity
- copies may also be sent to members of a Designated Committee, consisting of fewer than 25 people (1 of whom must be an employee or lay representative), set up by your organisation which includes persons who have an advisory, consultative, tribunal or executive function in connection with your NHS organisation's activities
- patients, and carers or guardians of patients may be provided with a single Paper Copy at the discretion of NHS staff and in connection with their treatment and/or condition. Patients cannot request copies of specifically identified material under the licence.

Copying authorised by the Licence

The Licence covers copying for NHS internal information purposes or for the benefit of patients in connection with their treatment or condition. You can make as many copies as you require for each particular purpose.

Your NHS organisation must own an original published paper edition or a copyright fee-paid copy supplied by a licensed document supplier such as the British Library or a CLA licensed press cuttings agency. Each act of copying may consist of up to:

- two articles from a magazine, journal or other periodical
- any number of articles in a periodical dealing with a particular theme where a substantial part of the issue is dedicated to that theme
- one entire case from a published report of judicial proceedings
- one chapter from a book
- or 5% of the publication, if greater than the above.

Restrictions on Scanning

Digital Copies may not be edited or manipulated in any way and may not be stored on a central server or systematically indexed with the intention of creating an electronic library or corporate information resource. Copies may not be placed on, or linked to the worldwide web or an Intranet.

*Your licensing co-ordinator is:

Christopher Russell xtn. 57485

This document is intended for guidance only and not as a substitute for the CLA Licence terms themselves which should be read in full. In the event of conflict between the two, the Licence shall prevail.