

Fiona Mitchelhill,
Chief Officer - Aberdeen City Health &
Social Care Partnership

Fiona is the Chief Officer at the Aberdeen City Health and Social Care Partnership, starting in February 2024. She has been with the Partnership since 2020, initially serving as the Chief Nurse and Frailty Lead, in her final year as Chief Nurse, she also was Chief Nurse for Medicine & Unscheduled Care. She has worked in a variety of roles across Grampian since she started her nurse training in 1992. These include as a nurse, support manager in maternity services, the Grampian lead for the Scottish Patient Safety Programme, and head of improvement and assurance team.

Fiona has an MSc in Health & Care and has a strong commitment to collaborative working across public sector partners, and plays a key role in shaping strategic health and social care initiatives in Aberdeen and across Grampian. She is passionate about improving services.