

Stuart Humphreys,
Marketing and Corporate
Communications Director, NHS
Grampian

(incl. executive responsibility for Public Involvement, Digital, Planning, Innovation & Programmes, Volunteering and Equality & Diversity)

Stuart joined NHS Grampian to take up his present role in 2020 during the height of the Covid pandemic.

With over 30 years' communications experience spanning both the public and private sector, Stuart has a proven track record of delivering memorable communications and marketing campaigns to audiences.

Stuart has worked in the public sector for over a decade, having led communications for Network Rail's £2bn Midland Mainline Upgrade Programme before joining NHS Grampian.

Prior to this, Stuart developed and delivered integrated public information campaigns working both in-house and as an account director for PR and marketing agencies. Stuart is adept at building positive relationships with stakeholders, developing engaging and award-winning creative and leading cross-functional teams to achieve results.
